Hamilton, AL – Bevill State Community College has announced the launch of a new manufactured housing installation training program at their Hamilton location.

Lance Latham, Deputy Director of the Alabama Manufactured Housing Association, said, “This is a great opportunity for someone looking for a steady job that can pay really well. Installers play a key role in the manufactured housing industry and are a critical part of helping families all over Alabama achieve the American Dream of owning their own home. So, this new program is an exciting opportunity, and we are grateful to the leadership at Bevill State Community College for working with our industry to make this program a reality.”
